Price-Wage Freeze in Peace-Time Signals Collapse of Democracy

Those who propose that the government attack inflation by establishing a wage-price freeze in peace-time belong to the same crowd which supports government subsidies to sustain wages and employment in a sinking private business.

For example, organized labor supported subsidies to the merchant marine to keep ships running and wages high when the fantastic cost of operating under the American flag was driving our ships out of ocean traffic. Political labor finally scuttled most of the American shipping lines.

A wage-price freeze is defensible only in time of war. It is difficult enough to enforce then—but in peace-time the enforcement problem is impossible.

The fact is the mere likelihood of a peace-time freeze on wages and prices is certain to defeat the very purpose for which the freeze is proposed. Fearing to be left at the economic post labor instantly wants higher wages, and business wants higher prices—so each will hold an advantage when and if the freeze becomes law.

We have been through two major wars in the 1900s and the futility of a government-dictated economy is obvious to everyone. And it is absurd to talk about it when there is no war emergency.

The fact is, the federal politicians never got the nation back on a normal plane of operations after the end of World War II—which they did manage to do after the first war—and have gone their prodigal way until private business both here and abroad has serious doubts as to what the American dollar is worth.

Spending reform is the answer—not another idiotic order out of Washington.

Actor Robt. Stack Is Suing CBS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Robert Stack has filed a $25 million damage suit against CBS in connection with the network's controversial documentary, "The Selling of the Pentagon."

The suit, filed Tuesday in Superior Court, said the documentary depicted Stack as supporting U.S. military involvement in Vietnam when he actually opposed it.

The actor said the film implied he was one of several performers who received large sums of money for appearing in movies intended to induce the public to back the U.S. military in the Vietnam war.

He said he received no compensation for his work in an Air Force training film, a few seconds of which appeared in the documentary.

Warrant Ready for Okla. Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A governor's warrant has been prepared for Gov. Dale Bumpers' signature to return Paul Dean Butler, 33, of Danville to the Oklahoma state penitentiary.

The proposed warrant says that Butler should be returned since Arkansas charges no longer are pending against him.

Butler was brought to Arkansas from the Oklahoma penitentiary in May 1970 to stand trial in Yell County on charges of obtaining $30,500 from a Dardanelle investment firm by false pretenses.

But court records show that Circuit Court Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway had dismissed the charges more than seven months before Butler was brought to Arkansas, although there is dispute over whether the charges were supposed to have been dismissed.

Board Meets With Hazel St. Citizens

A group of citizens from North Hazel Street, generally in the area of the I-30 interchange, met with the City Board last night to request that the city take some steps that would help them with the development of property in that area. They specifically requested that the city try to get an underpass built, possibly at Shover Street, under the Missouri Pacific railroad so that the traffic from that area would not be tied up at the railroad crossing. Mayor Sam Strong told the group that an underpass at this location was the first suggestion of the City Planning Commission and the city officials for an access to interstate 30 at Highway 29 north. The State Highway Department turned down the proposal, saying it was too expensive to consider.

The Board of Directors agreed

CBS Contempt Citation Dies Indirectly

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has indirectly killed the CBS "Selling of the Pentagon" contempt citation without cutting to the constitutional heart of the subpoena dispute.

"The 1st Amendment towers over this proceeding like a colossus, and no esprit de corps, no tenderness of one member for another should cause us to topple over this monument to our liberties," House dean and Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Tuesday during the debate.

But instead of going to a direct floor vote that could have forced a court fight between broadcast journalists and legislators, the House laid the case to rest with a parliamentary maneuver that avoided outright rejection of a committee recommendation.

"I feel that this is a sad day for the American people," Commerce Committee Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., said after the House, by a 228-181 vote, returned the citation to his panel. That committee had urged contempt action against the Columbia Broadcasting System for refusing to supply untelevised material from the news documentary.

Rank of Subdivision Peers Not Determined by Number of Baths

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Writer

EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Suburban status is a lot of garbage.

No longer is ranking among subdivision peers determined by the number of bathrooms in the house, the number of cars shared with the finance company or the size of the family boat.

In these days of ecology over all, it's garbage that carries the weight.

How you pack your garbage, the condition of your garbage cans, the kind of bag you use or even if you use a bag tell your story.

Even the quality of the garbage—that is, what you throw away—is a factor.

The newcomer to suburbia is labeled by his bright new cans. Whether they are colorful plastic or shiny metal tells a lot about the family, even before you meet the wife, see the dog and break up the first fight with the kids.

It says a lot more if they bring along the old garbage cans from the old neighborhood, packed with books or tools or last summer's clothes. For one thing, that probably means the company didn't pay

U.S. Is Returning to Tough-Yankee-Trader Stance With Japan Local Crops, Pastures Need Rain

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears returning to the tough-Yankee-trader stance as an answer to the record trade deficit American industry is expected to suffer this year at the hands of Japan.

Although the Tokyo government has liberalized import restrictions on American products in recent months, the United States will come up more than $2 billion short in its 1971 trade with Japan, according to administration predictions.

Results include a near-non-existent U.S. trade surplus, of extreme concern to an American government increasingly worried about the political impact of a troubled economy.

While details of the Nixon administration's course are under study and publicly unstated, their direction—including economic saber-rattling—is becoming increasingly clear.

One administration expert said there is no longer reason for not having full reciprocity in trade with Japan, foretelling a tougher U.S. attitude.

Suggestions under consideration include more quotas on Japanese goods imported here, enforcement of old laws aimed at unfair trade policies and a tighter use of legislation to prevent the so-called dumping of Japanese goods on the American market.

Also being studied are proposals to impose countervailing duties—additional charges on imported products subsidized by a foreign nation—and restrictions on foreign capital investment in the United States.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers pointing out that Japan has recovered from World War II to become an economic and political world power, said recently:

"It goes without saying that Japan must act with the sense of responsibility appropriate to its new position. Its economic policies, for example, must be subject to the same criteria as those of other major developed countries. In our bilateral economic relationships Japan cannot expect privileges in the United States which it is not itself prepared to extend."

Hope Woman's Son at Palace During Coup

Lt. Allen W. Bird II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Bird of Monticello, was present

Saturday at the summer palace during the attempt to assassinate Morocco's King Hassan II. Mrs. Edwin W. Bird is the former Mable Norton who lived in Hope for many years.

Bird is with the Legal Office of the Judge Advocate Corps at the U.S. Naval Command Station. He and his wife, Kathy, are stationed at a Moroccan military base. Bird had been invited to attend the celebration of the King's 42nd birthday and to play golf on the course at the palace, which is near Rabat.

His parents heard about the attempted coup, during which at least 180 persons were killed, Saturday night on a late TV newscast. The Birds called their son and were able to get through to him after a four-hour delay. However, Bird did not say much because the call was going through the Rabat exchange.

Bird, 27, is a graduate of Florida State University and the University of Arkansas Law School. He has been with the Navy in Morocco for three years and will return to the U.S. in March.

Arkansans With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — All four Arkansas congressmen voted with the majority Tuesday as the House of Representatives voted to send the Columbia Broadcasting System contempt citation back to the Commerce Committee.

The vote was 226-181.

Woman, 25, Killed in Wreck Here

An early morning accident resulted in the death of a Magnolia woman and injuries were sustained by her two companions.

The accident occurred at 2:20 this morning when a car driven by Elvin D. Brantley, 26, of Magnolia went out of control in a curve two miles south of Hope on Highway 29. The vehicle struck a culvert, overturned, and traveled one-tenth of a mile on its top.

Nancy Franklin, 25, of Magnolia died at 6 a.m. this morning. Elvin D. Brantley was taken to a Texarkana hospital with injuries. Another passenger in the car, Otis Johnson, 20, of Magnolia was slightly injured.

Trooper Wallace Martin of the Arkansas State Police investigated.

Officer Is Reprimanded for Action

LAKENEATH, England (AP) — A U.S. Air Force court-martined first Lieut. Thomas Culver $1,000 and gave him a reprimand today for participating in an antiwar demonstration at the U.S. Embassy in London on Memorial Day.

Culver could have received a maximum penalty of four years in prison, loss of pay and a dishonorable discharge. But the court decided against jail.

An Air Force court-martial by eight officers on Tuesday found the 32-year-old lawyer from Westfield, N.J., guilty of participating in a demonstration against the Vietnam war in London May 31 and of soliciting other servicemen to join in. It was the first time an American serviceman was tried in Britain on charges of demonstrating.

Servicemen abroad are banned from taking part in such demonstrations although they may do so in the United States while out of uniform and off duty. Culver said he would appeal his conviction and would take the case all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary.

"This is an important test case raising so many constitutional issues," Culver said. "It will force the military to look again at the constitutional rights of the First Amendment."

He expressed confidence that the Court of Military Appeals in Washington would decide in his favor.

The tiny courtroom at the Lakenheath Air Base near Cambridge was packed Tuesday at the climax of the trial. When the verdict was read, girls among the spectators cried.

But the stocky defendant, who as an attorney has participated in more than 200 military cases during six years in the Air Force, remained calm and said the verdict didn't surprise him.

"I'll take a hunk out of my life," he said, "but I'm not sorry for what I did. I'm proud of it."

Culver was one of 168 American servicemen who delivered an antiwar petition to the U.S. Embassy in London on Memorial Day. The captain said he did not consider this a demonstration, "we considered that to petition the government was legal."

Antibusing Rally Planned

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, national president of United Concerned Citizens of America, said Tuesday a neighborhood school antibusing rally will be held at the exhibition hall in Corpus Christi at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Young said the rally is sponsored by Concerned Neighbors, Inc., of Corpus Christi, which Young said was formed in 1970 and now has 16,000 members.

500,000 U.S. Telephone Workers Set Up Picket Lines Across Nation

Pickets Set Up in 26 Ark. Cities

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Most union employees of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Arkansas were honoring picket lines this morning that were set up by the Communications Workers of America against Western Electric Co.

A Southwestern Bell spokesman said 2,700 hourly employees out of 4,000 employees were affected in Arkansas. Pickets were set up in 26 cities.

Management and nonunion employees of Southwestern were assuming operator duties to keep telephone service going.

The CWA strike is not against Southwestern Bell, but there are about 175 union employees of Western Electric working in Arkansas to install equipment for Southwestern Bell. The CWA contract with Southwestern Bell does not expire until 12:01 a.m. Saturday.

Warren E. Bray, vice president and general manager of Southwestern Bell, said, "We regret that the CWA has seen fit to take this action against the public interest. We don't want a strike and we know the public doesn't want a strike."

Bray said the strikers were picketing certain Southwestern Bell buildings and "some of our employees have chosen not to cross these picket lines." He said where there were no pickets Southwestern Bell employees continued at their regular jobs.

"Our first concern is to make every effort to keep communications services working for our customers," Bray said. "And we will give priority to meeting emergency communications needs, such as police and fire. The health and safety of the public are the utmost concern to us."

Cities where picketing is occurring are Little Rock, Benton, Morrilton, Conway, Lonoke, Hot Springs, El Dorado, Magnolia, Camden, Hope, Arkadelphia, Pine Bluff, Forrest City, Helena, McGehee, Monticello, Warren, Jonesboro, Blytheville, Osceola, Paragould, Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Springdale, Rogers and Mena.

Statement on Local Phone Service

Picket lines went up at the local Southwestern Bell Telephone Office, Hope being one of 26 Arkansas cities where lines went up.

Jack Bayles, local manager, issued the following statement in regard to the local office:

"We regret that Southwestern Bell employees are taking part in this strike by the Communication Workers of America."

"Southwestern Bell's contract with the CWA is still in effect and will be through July 16. The Company has been negotiating in good faith with CWA representatives and Southwestern Bell does not want a strike and we know the public doesn't want one."

"However, our main concern is to insure communication services continue operating as smoothly as possible. Obviously service will not be completely normal with many skilled people away from their jobs. But we will man switchboards and other key jobs with supervisory personnel and other employees who

Major Quake Strikes in Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major earthquake struck near the sparsely populated island of Bougainville in the Solomon Islands of the South Pacific today, the National Earthquake Information Center reported.

A spokesman said a watch was under way by Pacific Ocean observatories for a possible tidal wave, but none had been reported.

The earthquake, at 2:11 a.m. EDT, registered at 8.1 on the Richter scale, the largest shock since a West Guinea quake Jan. 10. The 1964 Alaska earthquake registered at 8.5.

Wildcat strikes spread from Virginia to California even as he spoke.

Pacific Telephone Co. said 2,500 workers were off the job early Tuesday night in San Francisco and East San Francisco Bay communities.

In Miami, an AT&T spokesman said, striking telephone company employees walked off the job and cut cables, knocking out some circuits that were repaired later by supervisors.

Some 200 CWA members in Middletown, Ohio, went off the job early; "tired of waiting," they said, for the mornings deadline.

Inconvenience to Public Is Slight Now

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bell System was struck by up to 500,000 telephone workers today as phone companies kept service going but prepared to halt repair service and installations.

Supervisory personnel filled in at switchboards after members of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America walked out at 6 a.m. EDT.

A union spokesman said the virtually nationwide walkout would last at least two weeks because of complicated labor ratification procedures.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said it was too early to determine the effects.

"But people can expect to hear a lot of male voices when calling the operator," said information officer Chuck Dynes.

Because telephones are so highly automated, most calls will continue to go through until lack of maintenance causes breakdowns.

In strike-affected areas many new telephone installations were halted, as was repair service on all but government-operated telephones essential for national security.

The strike by the CWA and allied unions is over wages and fringe issues, including the CWA's demand for an agency shop and the company's alleged "antifeminist" job policies.

Last May 23, the union rejected a three-year wage and benefit package the company said amounted to a 30-per-cent increase, including a 17-per-cent boost in wages alone. Current pay ranges from tops of $118 for operators to $193 for craftsmen.

Bell's parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph Co., said Tuesday it had a new offer. Terms were not released, but in a statement the C & P Telephone Co. of Washington said it was presenting a pact for consideration "totaling more than 30 per cent in wages and fringes" over three years.

A C & P spokesman said the offer provided for a 16-per-cent boost in the first year, but he did not give full details.

Two and a half hours after AT&T announced it had a new offer, Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, dismissed it as a scandalous public-relations trick.

Wildcat strikes spread from Virginia to California even as he spoke.

$11.8 Million for Feeding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas did not receive any of the more than $11.8 million additional funds approved by the Agriculture Department Tuesday to help operate child feeding programs this summer at organized playgrounds and day-care centers.

The money is part of a $15 million boost announced July 9 for the feeding program.

In all, the latest increase boosted to more than $29.9 million the department has approved for food programs this summer.

Germes Being Destroyed at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The 48-hour process of destroying the U.S. stockpile of deadly war germs began Tuesday at the Pine Bluff Arsenal.

Col. John Stoner, commander of the arsenal, said when the process is completed, the total capability of the United States to produce germ warfare agents will be destroyed.

The seven agents stored at the arsenal include types that cause infectious disease and sometimes death in humans and other warm-blooded animals.

Stoner said the biological agents and toxins that have been produced and stored at the arsenal comprised the entire U.S. stockpile except for those used for defensive research, such as the development of vaccine.

When the destruction process is completed about mid-April 1972, the arsenal facilities will be used for peaceful purposes, such as research on environmental problems, by the food and drug administration.

Destruction of the germs was ordered Nov. 25, 1969, by President Nixon.

Biological agents being destroyed are francisella tularensis, the cause of rabbit fever; Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, a flu-type disease, and bacillus anthracis, which causes anthrax.

Toxins being destroyed are catenella, which is a shellfish poison and botulinum toxin and staphylococcus enterotoxin, which are food poisons.

A caustic solution is added to the containers that house the germs and then the material is sterilized at 280 degrees for three hours. After cooling, a sample is removed and tested to verify that the organism is dead and the agent destroyed was identified correctly.

When all the agents are destroyed, the material will be buried on Army property.

Nixon Policies Denounced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Denouncing Nixon administration housing policies, a civil rights coalition has called on Democratic presidential hopefuls to set forth their own programs for open housing in the suburbs.

The coalition, led by the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, said that while President Nixon "diagnosed a cancer and prescribed aspirin as a remedy," major Democratic figures will not even declare themselves on so sensitive an issue as suburban housing.

Bayard Rustin, spokesman for the coalition, said letters have been sent to leaders of both parties in Congress and to all presidential possibilities. He made clear the primary targets are such Democratic figures as Sens. Edmund S. Muskie, Edward M. Kennedy, George S. McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey.

"We strongly urge you not only to respond to policy as enunciated by President Nixon, but to offer as well your affirmative views on expanding and creating housing opportunities for all people at all income levels in an open society," the letters said.

"We want to smoke them out and force them on the record," said Rustin.

While commending the President for taking first steps toward solutions, the coalition accused Nixon of failing to exercise moral leadership, leaving loopholes in regulations, and ignoring important causes of housing discrimination.

The group said Nixon failed to counter white prejudices and fears in his June 11 housing statement and unduly emphasized limitations of federal power.

"It is simply unacceptable for the administration to suggest that the government... is powerless to correct a fundamental injustice which it has helped to create," the rights group said.

Ten Firms Seek to Ban Arkla Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of 10 companies, who would be among the first to have their gas supply cut off under a curtailment plan proposed by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., appeared Tuesday at a Federal Power Commission hearing on the proposed plan.

The 10 representatives were allowed to cross-examine Arkla officials who defended the proposed plan for limiting natural gas.

A nationwide gas shortage has forced the FPC to order all natural gas distribution companies to propose a plan for curtailing natural gas deliveries to conserve fuel for the winter months.

Arkla submitted a plan in May, but the FPC has ordered that the plan not be put into effect until objections to the plan can be heard.

Arkla already curtails gas to its industrial customers to conserve it for "human needs." The "human needs" include homes, schools, hospitals and churches. Under the proposed curtailment plan, industrial customers would be cut off in order to their priority. Arkla proposed to divide its customers into five priorities or categories.

Several power companies that would be affected by the plan appeared at the hearing Tuesday.

Arkla contends the power companies could convert to fuel oil to generate electricity, but the power companies contend that converting to fuel oil would be expensive and time consuming.

The hearing resumed at 10 a.m. today.

BOARD MEETS

that an underpass in this area is badly needed, and that it would serve the entire community as well as the citizens along North Hazel Street. It was suggested that such a project would probably be too expensive for the City to tackle without the aid of federal or state funds. The city officials agreed to explore all possibilities.

Another request from the group was that the highway department be asked to permit interstate traffic to come as far as the Highway 29 interchange if at all feasible. The city officials agreed to make this request to the State Highway Department.

Haskell Jones, representing a committee of 15 men that had been appointed to review and recommend locations of state highways within the city limits, presented a report of this committee on the highway department's proposal to make some changes on Highway 29 south. The proposed change would rebuild the curve west of the underpass on 23rd Street to make it suitable for highway traffic. This would eliminate a proposed road from the intersection of South Main and 23rd Street to Highway 29 which would have followed, generally, the existing road past the Hope Feed Mill and Anthony Lumber Company. This would have crossed the railroad. The new idea eliminates this grade crossing and makes use of the existing underpass.

The Board of Directors approved the recommendation and said they would forward the approval to the planning division of the State Highway Commission.

The Directors passed a resolution authorized the City Attorney to notify all the railroads in the city that they are in violation of the law by failure to keep their street crossings in good repair. The resolution asked them to give these immediate attention and advised that legal action would be taken if they failed to keep the crossing in good repair.

They also passed a resolution authorizing the City Attorney to institute condemnation proceedings to get right-of-entry to some properties on South Main Street who failed to sign easements granting the additional right-of-way needed by the State Highway Department in the proposed rebuilding of South Main Street. There are 45 pieces of property involved, 30 of which have executed easements for the additional right-of-way. Of the remaining, 4 are in the process of being completed by absentee owners, but the city cannot wait on their completions since they have to guarantee the WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Board of Parole has announced it will hear parole applications July 28 by imprisoned antiwar priests Philip and Daniel Berrigan.

The Berrigans are in the Federal Correctional Institute at Danbury, Conn., for destroying draft records.

Philip, who began serving his sentence July 5, 1968, becomes eligible for parole Sept. 14. He is serving concurrent six-and-three-year sentences.

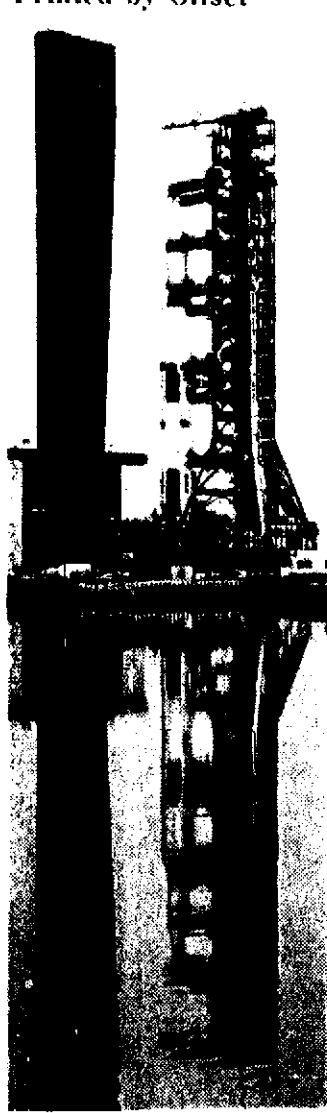

Daniel, who began serving his three-year sentence Aug. 11, 1970 is eligible for parole Aug. 2.

Philip was named in a federal indictment as the mastermind of an alleged plot to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and blow up heating tunnels of Washington buildings in an effort to force an end to the Vietnam War. He refused to plea to the charges and a plea of innocent was entered for him in proceedings in Harrisburg, Pa.

Links Population to Environment

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Entertainer Arthur Godfrey says the only way to save the environment is to halt the population growth.

Godfrey said it was important to work to clean up the air, the water and the land, but added: "All of this will buy us only a little time if we don't stop the population growth and keep it at zero."

HHH Wants Funds Delayed for Weapons

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring the nation must not deploy new weapons while trying to limit old ones, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., asked Congress today to delay all funds for the multiple-warhead system called MIRV.

Humphrey told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the total cost of equipping all land- and sea-based missiles with MIRV tips may exceed an estimated $12 billion. He said in prepared remarks such "enormous expenditures" have not been justified by the Nixon administration.

Employing such a system now, Humphrey said, could unbalance what he called the parity between U.S. and Russian missile forces and distort arms limitation talks under way with the Soviet Union.

The former vice president introduced legislation to isolate all MIRV development funds in a special Treasury account until Congress and the president decide jointly the money is needed to counter a real Soviet threat.

Humphrey gave the committee a report by himself and two House members, concluding MIRV—Multiple Independently Targetable Re-entry Vehicle—is a weapon whose time has not come. The MIRV system places several warheads on a single missile, each aimed at a separate target.

The report said any urgency about deploying MIRV is stripped away by indications the strategic arms limitation talks in Helsinki, Finland, may be close to negotiating a limit on deployment of American and Soviet antiballistic missile systems—ABM.

"MIRV is a highly destabilizing weapons system which may become superfluous if agreements on ABM and offensive weapons ceilings are successfully concluded at SALT," the report said.

Schwigen Is Freed From Jail

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A writ of habeas corpus freeing Richard Schwigen after more than 40 days of imprisonment in the White County Jail at Searcy was granted Tuesday by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The court, ruling after a brief hearing, said White County authorities had not complied with the law in detaining Schwigen.

Ed Bethune of Searcy, Schwigen's attorney, contended that Schwigen was unlawfully imprisoned May 28 by White County deputies on the basis of a warrant sent them in the mail by Knox County, Ill., authorities, charging his client with the theft of more than $150.

Bethune said Schwigen had not received a hearing since his detention and that no fugitive proceeding had been brought against him in Arkansas. The attorney said a person may be arrested without an Arkansas warrant, but that in such case the defendant must be taken with "all practical speed" before a judge.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. DAVID THOMAS STILL

The wedding of Miss Esther Florence Marett and David Thomas Still was solemnized at First United Methodist Church in Batesville, Mississippi at 3 p.m., on Sunday, June 27.

The Rev. Crawford Ray officiated. A program of organ music was presented by Fred H. Marett Jr., of San Francisco, brother of the bride.

The wedding scene was lighted with an arch of tapers in a floor candelabrum in the background of the setting flanked on either side with spiral candelabra. A tall stand held a large fern beneath the central candelabrum and ferns reflected from lower stands interspersing the setting. The altar table held the open Bible with white satin marker, and small tables, on either side were decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and gypsophyllia. The family pews were marked with white bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Fred H. Marett Sr., wore a formal wedding gown of candelgown peau de soie, designed with Empire waistline. The batteau neckline and sleeves were accented with motifs of Alencon lace. The chapel-length train, sprinkled with lace appliques, fell from the yoke. She wore a full length mantilla bordered with re-embroidered lace motifs. Her cascade bouquet was of white rosebuds with tuberoses florets caught in satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Van Bailey of Lambert, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth Bloodworth, Mrs. Thomas Rhoden of Jackson, and Misses Brenda Street and Maggie Watkins, both of Atlanta, Ga.

The attendants wore floorlength dresses of pink and blue flowered voile designed with Empire waistlines, U-necklines and short puffed sleeves. The shoulders were accented with flat bows of the same material. They wore pink Dior bows in their hair. They carried nosegays of pink carnations centered with pink rosebuds.

Hudson Still served his brother as best man. Groomsmen-ushers were Steve Still, brother of the bridegroom, Spencer Hudson, Dwayne Sutton and Van Bailey of Lambert.

Mrs. Marett, mother of the bride, attended the wedding in a blue alaskine A-line dress, featuring a standing collar, slot seaming and top-stitch trim. She wore a whimsy headpiece and matching accessories. Her corsage was a pink cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J.V. Still, wore a mint green dress of knitted crepe fashioned on A-lines and featuring a yoke. Her whimsy headpiece and other accessories matched her dress and she wore a yellow corsage.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple will be at home in Hope, where Mr. Still is manager of Sears Roebuck Store.

HELEN HELP US!

'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE?

Dear Helen:

One thing the women's liberation movement has caused—that isn't mentioned very much—is "awakening without hope for fulfillment," which can be worse than sleep.

For the first time in their lives, many women are realizing they are downgraded, "used," almost enslaved by their roles, but what can they do about it? If they rebel, family wars start. If they divorce their male chauvinists, they aren't equipped for "single" struggle and they get into worse troubles, besides being lonely. Today, they're aware and resentful, therefore witchy. Yesterday they were submissive and accepting so perhaps, on the whole, treated better than are modern wives who challenge their husbands and often get the worst of it.

Will true equality ever come?

—DOUBTFUL

Dear Doubtful: I think it will—in maybe two generations. Almost every major social change takes at least that long, for the first generation starts areas of controversy and the second, children of the "old guard," are only half convinced. Not until the third batch matures will total equality be considered the norm.

...And then, whaddya bet: someone will start a "liberate women from the drudgery of business" movement, and there we'll go again... —H.

Dear Helen:

I've seen a lot of ads lately about learning while you sleep. Do you think people can really assimilate knowledge just because a tape recorder hands you the message as you snore? —KARL

Dear Karl:

I'll believe this "learn while you sleep" thing when it cures snoring by subconscious

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The sun beat down on Stage 27 and inside it was eerily still and unbearably hot.

The rumbling air conditioning system had been turned off for a bedroom scene between Lloyd Bridges and Janet Leigh. The director, Alf Kjalen, who had studied under Ingmar Bergman in Sweden, watched from behind the camera.

The crew was at work on a film commodity that is becoming as hot as the air on that sound stage—the television movie.

Four series of television movies are being produced for the fall season. It will be the first time that all three networks have had a series. ABC will have two, the highly successful "Movie of the Week" on Tuesday nights and the new "Movie of the Weekend" on Saturday nights.

The two ABC film packages are 90-minutes each, as is the new CBS "Friday Night Movies." The NBC "world Premiere Movie," also set for Friday nights, will be two hours.

Kjalen, directing "The Deadly Dream," said he liked the 90-minute form, but said, "I just wish we had twice as much time. Ten days is not a long time to make a picture."

"The Deadly Dream," a mystery thriller for the weekend movie, is about a man who is unable to tell whether his dreams or his waking hours are real. Kjalen said, "I don't know yet how I want it to end. It's a matter of opinion as to which version you believe."

The new weekend package of films is under the direction of Lillian Gallo, a program executive at 20th Century-Fox for 10 years before joining ABC.

Singer Blames Investments

LONDON (AP) — Singer Dick Haymes blames luxury living and bad investments for the fact he owes $38,400 and has tangible assets of only $1,920. The 52-year-old crooner promised a court he would make good his debts.

Civil Rights For Cinderella?

At first glance, Mr. Harrison's will seemed plain enough. It left his entire estate to his "children," a word that obviously included his own three daughters. But did it also include his stepdaughters, the child of his second wife?

After a court hearing, the judge decided that the stepdaughters were just out of luck. He said the word "children" did not include stepchildren unless the will expressly or impliedly said so.

This ruling illustrates that even today, in traditional areas of the law, our Cinderellas may still be treated like under-privileged members of the family.

"Although it may appear unjust," commented one court, "we must take the law as we find it."

This applies not only to the right of inheritance but also to the right of support. In most states, the mere fact that a stepchild joins the family circle does not impose upon the stepfather any legal obligation to pay the upkeep.

As a practical matter, however, stepfathers generally do support their stepchildren—and may, of course, go through a formal adoption ceremony.

Furthermore, especially in the newer fields of law, there is a growing tendency—sometimes by specific statutory enactment—to place stepchildren on an equal footing with natural children. Consider this case:

A factory worker was killed in an industrial accident. When his family put in a claim for workmen's compensation, the company readily agreed to pay the victim's widow and young son. But it refused to pay anything to his stepdaughter, even though she had been living for years as a regular member of the family.

However, when the matter was tested in court, the judge took note of the humanitarian purpose of the modern workmen's compensation system.

"Compensation is not inheritance," he said. "Its purpose is to give relief to dependents of one killed in industry."

Thereupon the court ordered the company to pay a full share of compensation to the stepdaughter, since she 1) did indeed need relief and 2) was indeed a dependent.

Jackson Is Success at All-Stars

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — After eight years of All-Star frustration the American League finally found the silver lining...and it came like a bolt out of the blue.

Reggie Jackson's bolt, not Vida Blue's.

While the fans came to see the sensation Al. Blue pitch, they all went home talking about Jackson's really-spar-kling home run that helped the Americans stop an eight-game losing streak with a 6-4 victory over the Nationals in Tuesday night's 42nd All-Star Game.

"That ball really took off and I thought it was going to knock the light tower down," said National League catcher Johnny Bench about Jackson's gigan-tic, two-run pinch-hit wallop that highlighted a four-run third inning.

Jackson's blast off National League starter Dock Ellis, estimated at close to 600 feet since it hammered against the facade over the upper deck of Tiger Stadium's right-center field, touched off an American League power spree.

Frank Robinson delivered a two-run shot later in the inning and Harmon Killebrew followed with the clincher, another two-run smash in the sixth.

The Jackson shot helped the American League wipe out an early 3-0 National League advantage, built on two homers off Blue, the Oakland A's usually untouchable 17-game winner.

"Good pitching doesn't always stop good hitting," said Blue, referring to the old baseball adage.

He spoke from experience. Blue, who came into the contest touted as baseball's best pitcher, breezed through the first three batters before dealing a gopher pitch to Bench, who smacked a two-run homer in the National League second.

Blue then gave up another homer in the third inning, this time to Hank Aaron.

Despite an unparalleled 17-3 record and 188 strikeouts just halfway through the season, the Blue Blazer admitted he's only human.

"I'm no super All-Star," said Blue, who said he was "nervous before I threw the first pitch" in his first performance in an All-Star game.

So Blue was saddled with a quick three-run deficit and the partisan 53,559 fans in the Detroit Tigers' ancient park probably wondered if their American League heroes would ever win a game and cut into the National League's 23-17 advantage.

Then light-hitting shortstop Luis Aparacio hit a sharp single in the third and Jackson came in to bat for Blue, his Oakland teammate.

Jackson, a last-minute replacement for injured All-Star Tony Oliva, had two strikes on him before he knew it.

The next pitch sailed off Jackson's bat like a bullet and was greeted by a thunderous ovation as the home fans applauded the American League's first two runs. The Nationals didn't know it at the time, but it was all over.

While the American stars pounded the cover off the ball, Weaver still wasn't sure about the outcome until third baseman Brooks Robinson pocketed Bench's popup for the last out.

"You always feel like you'll blow the lead," said Baltimore's spunky, little manager. "You've got to have a pitcher ready. I'm nervous as hell, and I just can't relax until the ball's caught for the final out."

Weaver led hometown favorite Mickey Lolich in the bullpen to calm his nerves. The Detroit pitcher was touched for the National League's last run, a homer by Roberto Clemente, before he retired the final five batters.

"It was a hitters' night," said National League Manager Sparky Anderson. "I've seen both Dock Ellis and Vida Blue a lot sharper."

In All-Stars, AL Wins 6-4 Over NL

By CHARLES C. CAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — American League Manager Earl Weaver came up with a new victory formula Tuesday night as his home-run conscious team cashed in on the long ball to nip the National League 6-4.

"I had a meeting with the team before the game and reminded them they still have a major share of the American League race left and I cautioned them not to take chances or to get hurt, even though we wanted to win the game."

The American Leaguers, seeking to avoid the possibility of a base runner being injured in trying to stretch a hit, did their scoring the easy way as all six of their runs jogged across the plate as a result of home run wallops.

"I'd expected to see some long-ball hitting in this park," said Sparky Anderson, somewhat downcast manager of the National League team whose eight-year domination of the annual All-Star classic came to an end in the action-packed meeting at Tiger Stadium.

Anderson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, expressed surprise, however, that all runs scored in the long-hitting game scampered across the plate as a result of home runs.

He conceded that both starting pitchers, fireballing Vida Blue of the Oakland A's and Dock Ellis of Pittsburgh's National League club, got roughed up more than he had anticipated.

Blue was tagged for three runs, on home run shots by Johnny Bench and Hank Aaron, in his three-inning opening stint but he still wound up the winning pitcher as the American Leaguers came to life with a four-run outburst against Ellis in a third inning ignited by a pair of home runs.

Reggie Jackson, in the game as a pinch hitter for Blue, hit the first homer off the blazing-fast Ellis. It was a tremendous line shot to right-center field that bounded off a light tower high atop the third deck at Tiger Stadium as 53,559 fans reacted in amazement.

Bench, whose own two-run homer had started the NL on its scoring for the night, was more interested in talking about Jackson's drive.

"That ball really took off and I thought it was going to knock the light tower down," he said with a grin. "Seriously, if the ball hadn't hit the tower it probably would be still rolling."

Jackson, nibbling on a piece of pizza as a swarm of newsmen surrounded him in the AL dressing room, said his tape-measure wallop came on a slider. "I hit it pretty good," he said in an understatement.

Yacht Sets Record in Pacific Race

HONOLULU (AP) — Pushed by a 20-knot northeast wind, the 73-foot ketch Windward Passage has sailed past Diamond Head to set a record in the Transpacific Yacht Race.

Windward Passage, skippered by Robert Johnson of Hawaii's Lahina Yacht Club, covered the 2,225 miles from Los Angeles in nine days, nine hours, and six minutes, finishing at 8:09 p.m. Tuesday, Hawaii time.

The clocking sliced an hour and 15 minutes from the record set two years ago by Blackfin. When Blackfin set the record, Windward Passage actually finished 57 minutes ahead, but was penalized two hours for a starting-line violation.

Blackfin, piloted by Kenneth DeMeuse of St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco, neared the finish line late Tuesday night, closely followed by Ondone from Larchmont, N.Y. both are 73-foot ketches.

1971-72 National Football League season.

The 24-year-old NFL veteran, who led the Lions to a position in the post-season playoffs last year, divulged his plans at a morning news conference prior to reporting to the Lions' Cranbrook training camp.

Informed sources said he was paid about $35,000 yearly under his old contract and is asking about $115,000 on the new agreement. The Lions management have reportedly offered him about $70,000.

Robinson

Voted Most

Valuable

By LARRY PALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Over the winter Frank Robinson helped straighten out Reggie Jackson's hitting problems by patting him on the back.

Tuesday night they combined to straighten out the American League's losing problem and now both are getting pats on the back.

They each hit two-run homers in the third inning off Pittsburgh's Dock Ellis and later Minnesota's Hamon Killebrew added another two-run shot which powered the American League to a 6-4 victory over the National League in the 42nd annual All-Star Game.

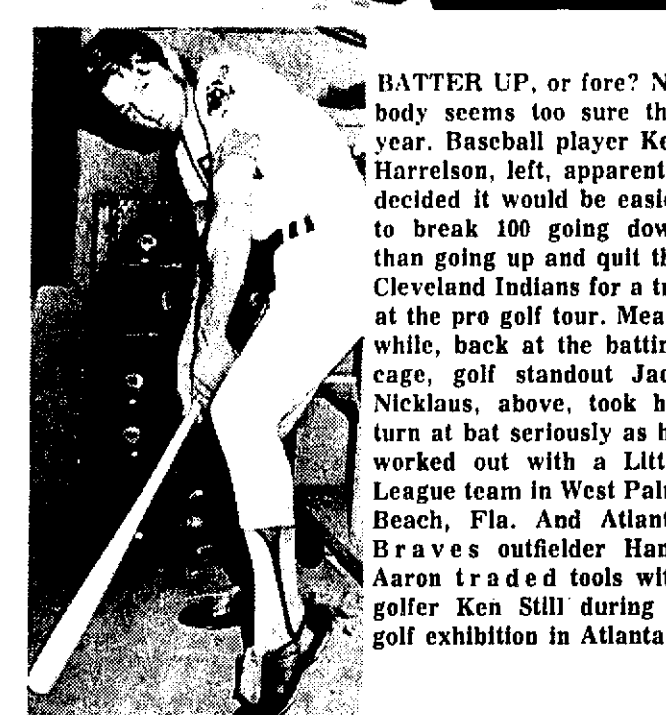

"Jackson got us close, Frank put us ahead, and Killebrew made it easy," summed up Earl Weaver of Baltimore, manager of the victors.

Robinson was voted most valuable player of the game by newsmen.

Robinson and Jackson must be considered dual heroes in the slugfest, which stopped the AL's All-Star losing streak at eight.

And afterwards they each lauded the other for his performance.

"If I could walk in his image it would be tremendous," the Oakland outfielder said of Robinson in the AL clubhouse.

Trevino Amazed at Victories

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — "I just hope the wheels don't come off."

Streaking Lee Trevino was talking about his phenomenal string of golf championships, capped by his victory in last week's British Open.

"I don't know what's happening, but I hope it doesn't stop," Trevino said today as he prepared for Thursday's first round in the $150,000 Western Open.

"I just hope it keeps going, that this wagon keeps rolling. I like winning golf tournaments. 'I'd gone 13 months without winning. I'd been right up there a lot of times, but something always happened,' he said.

"But then, all of a sudden, it just started happening."

He won five tournaments in just over two months, lost another in a playoff and completed an unprecedented sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open titles in Southport, England only last Saturday.

His fantastic performance vaulted the 31-year-old Super Mex alongside Jack Nicklaus as the two dominant figures in the game today and stamped him as the man to beat in the 72 hole chase for the $30,000 first prize here.

Probably his chief opposition is Billy Casper, the 1970 Player of the Year but a nonwinner this season. Casper, winner of more than $1 million in prize money, was a late entrant.

He had planned to skip this old event and spend two weeks in Morocco as the guest of King Hassan II, but changed arrangements after bloody political upheavals in that country last weekend.

Some other leading contenders include Masters champ Charles Coody, also a late entrant, defending title-holder Hugh Royer, Gene Littler, George Archer, Miller Barber, Bert Vancey, Doug Sanders, Tom Weiskopf, Frank Beard and Dave Eichelberger, winner of last week's Milwaukee Open.

Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer are taking some time off. Also among the missing are South African Gary Player and England's Tony Jacklin. Former PGA champ Dave Stockton withdrew because of an eye infection.

come back this year from a slumping 1970 season.

Last year Jackson's batting average dropped from .275 to .237, his home run count from 47 to 23 and his RBI total from 118 to 66.

This year he became an All-Star at Weaver's selection only after Tony Oliva of Minnesota decided not to play because of injury.

Frazier to Seek Release of POWs

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Frazier admits he can't out-talk his old antagonist Muhammad Ali, but the heavyweight champion does have a way of getting attention.

Frazier had been on the ground in Houston only a few minutes Tuesday when he announced he would try to get clearance to go to North Vietnam to seek the release of American prisoners.

Later he invaded Ali's training camp at the Astorhall because "I just wanted to see what you looked like now. Usually when I get through with a fighter, there's not much left."

Everybody seemed worried about Frazier's health except Frazier.

"Anybody who wants to check me up, that's okay with me," Frazier said. "I'm willing to go to any doctor. I've had no problems with headaches. I've been training three weeks and I feel great."

That's bad news for Cleveland "Big Cat" Williams, a seasoned pro, and James Helwig, a Texas Christian football player who recently turned pro boxer.

Frazier will spar two rounds with each in the Astorhall tonight as the feature of a card that includes four other fights.

Frazier's manager, Yank Durham, blamed Bob Arum, president of Top Rank, Inc., for spreading rumors about his

U.S. Lawyers Invade London

LONDON (AP) — Fifteen thousand Americans are descending on London for "the biggest American peacetime invasion anywhere"—the second half of the American Bar Association's annual convention.

Lawyers, wives and children are pouring into 75 hotels booked years in advance. The week-long meeting opens Wednesday, continuing the ABA's 94th annual meeting that began in New York July 1.

Hotels are stocking up on such things as orange juice and extra copies of The Wall Street Journal.

Everything from a Chicago computer to an ex-diplomat named Sir Frederick Everson have been put to work handling arrangements.

"It's the biggest thing I've ever handled," says Sir Frederick.

The ABA meeting headquarters at the Grosvenor House Hotel, between the U.S. Embassy and Hyde Park, includes a reception area providing advice on renting cars, riding subways, booking flights and arranging for hostesses to guide lawyers' wives on shopping tours.

While judges from Florida and Idaho ask a miniskirted tourist guide which pubs to visit, ladies called "English Roses" answer their wives' questions about what to wear at a Buckingham Palace garden party.

When garden partying with the queen, the English Roses advise, wear hats and gloves and never pants suits.

The staff at Grosvenor House has been specially trained to understand American idioms like "last name" instead of the British "surname," and "first floor" instead of the British "ground floor."

"Headwaiters have been advised which brands of Scotch Americans prefer," says Mike Holland, the hotel's front office and reservations manager. "We've been planning for this for eight years."

ABA delegates and their families will occupy 600 of the hotel's 816 beds. The hotel opened a new restaurant Monday, and mailroom workers and telex operators have been added.

Expected to spend at least $2.5 million during their one-week stay, the Americans are arriving in dozens of chartered flights from across America. Six hundred delegates and their families, including U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and his wife Martha, disembark tonight at Southampton from the liner Queen Elizabeth 2.

Says Reagan Is Trouble to Nixon

MORAN, Wyo. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has been accused by Republican Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon of causing President Nixon more trouble than even the Democrats.

McCall said the Republican President has been "a hostage" of Reagan because of "the terms the President has to meet to keep fences mended between Washington and Sacramento."

The division could affect Nixon's chances for renomination and re-election in 1972, McCall said without amplification when he arrived Sunday for today's opening of the annual Western Governors' Conference.

"I think he's been squeezed unduly by the governor of California," the Oregon governor said.

McCall said he plans to take his criticism directly to the California chief executive after Reagan arrives late Tuesday. He said he based his comments on the running fights between Reagan and the Nixon administration over welfare reform and federal legal aid to California's rural poor.

McCall said welfare was the chief problem—primarily Reagan's opposition to President Nixon's family assistance welfare reform program now in Congress.

"This is the great issue on which hangs the President's chances of getting renominated and elected," McCall said. "I would hope the governor of California would really come out four-square for re-election and not hold him hostage."

Reagan has been a critic of the Nixon welfare plan and will outline his own state-oriented welfare reform ideas to a panel session Wednesday. He has argued that the Nixon proposal of a guaranteed income for poor families is "a dangerous principle."

In Sacramento, Reagan's press secretary, Paul Beck, said, "We won't have any comment on McCall at this time."

Reagan says the disputes between him and the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Office of Economic Opportunity never have interfered with his personal relationship with Nixon, which he contends is good.

Reagan's welfare plan, which he has held out as a model for other states, is dormant in the Democrat-controlled California Legislature and has little chance of passage this session.

It concentrates on closing loopholes, tightening eligibility requirements, and an absolute state spending limit for welfare.

MIAMI (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba promised those attending a sugar cane cutting ceremony in Camaguey that he wouldn't give a long speech, and wrapped up what he had to say in one hour and 42 minutes.

Mayor of Baltimore Is Retiring

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro III, considered by most political experts a certainty for re-election, says he decided to step down Dec. 5 because being mayor of a big city is like getting hit on the head with a hammer.

D'Alesandro suggested in a candid discussion that his decision, announced earlier, was made after he found himself "less committed" to the demands of city government as his four-year term was winding down.

"Most city leaders assured me I could win," the Democratic mayor said. "It was just something in me. I found myself staying closer to City Hall and going out on fewer neighborhood romps, less speaking engagements."

D'Alesandro, who will be 42 on July 24, said he will return to his law practice and some possible business ventures.

He held out the possibility of returning to public life in two or three years when "I may have my batteries recharged. You never say never in politics."

D'Alesandro said he began thinking about stepping down in October 1968. "I sensed the problems facing me," he said, mentioning labor negotiations and implementation of federal poverty programs.

Despite growing problems and personal demands, the mayor said his wife and five children hardly complained. "It had a direct effect, but my wife was of the opinion I should do whatever I wanted."

D'Alesandro, whose father was Baltimore mayor from 1947 to 1959, believes the nation's cities are headed for political futures where elected heads will serve only one term.

"Believe me, it's like getting hit on the head with a hammer. How long can they go after getting hit on the head for four years?" he asked.

D'Alesandro said regional government may be the only approach that can help cities solve their problems. "Between now and the year 2,000 there's going to have to be relocation of people and industry."

"The problem of population density in the megalopolis has got to be solved," he said, suggesting that regional planning is the only way government can react to mass population shifts.

D'Alesandro said he believes his administration scored important gains in school construction, urban renewal, public housing and race relations.

He said his biggest regret was failing to fight early in his term for a broader-based source of revenue.

The D'Alesandro administration sought state legislative approval of an earnings tax in 1968, but opposition from suburban counties led to its defeat.

From the top of the tower on the summit of Bull Mountain, the White River looks like a glittering serpent slithering through the valley, following a course of least resistance, as it moves southeastward through some of the most magnificent scenery in the Ozarks.

On a clear day—Looking southward from the top of the tower—you have a spectacular view of 50 or more miles of breathtaking mountain scenery. And, if you just happen to have binoculars along, you can see several of the numerous vertical bluffs that tower above the rambling river at every sharp bend.

From this same spot—up so high you can almost touch the fleecy, low-flying clouds—do an about face and there before you is a sprawling lake, stretching as far northward as the eye can see—a mountain peak here, water there. And, far off to the right is another glitter of water and mountains, indicating still another big, inviting lake just waiting to be explored.

The Bull Shoals-Norfolk-White River area of north central Arkansas is one of America's most colorful and most exciting vacation meccas, offering the visitor one of the widest varieties of recreational facilities, water sports, resorts, camping facilities and other unique and unusual attractions to be found anywhere.

The world-famous section of the White River below Bull Shoals Dam slashes through the rugged Ozark foothills for a distance of over a hundred miles before it reaches the flatlands below Batesville, where it becomes a wide, lazy stream flowing toward its confluence with the Arkansas and Mississippi.

For a distance of 60 miles below the Dam, the White is renowned as one of the most productive Rainbow trout streams in America. And, because of moderate temperatures in this section of the nation, it's fishable 12 months out of the year.

This section of the White also is noted for its rugged mountain scenery. Towering limestone bluffs, rugged rimrocks, narrow valleys and numerous caves offer the photographer, artist and hiking enthusiast, endless challenges.

And, for those who thrive on wilderness camping, there are numerous hideouts all along this section of the river where you can lose yourself for weeks at the time, yet never be very far from "civilization" should an emergency arise.

For fishermen, this entire section of the river is dotted with outfitters, resorts, cottages and motels. You can "float" the river for a day, or for a week, and never fish the same spot twice.

The twin lakes region—Bull Shoals and Norfolk—is truly one of the nation's most enchanting vacation and recreational meccas.

Says Nixon Trying to Censor Press

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says that the Nixon administration is attempting to censor the press and following a pattern of press criticism begun by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Kennedy said that government actions to prevent publication of the Pentagon papers, "follows a pattern begun by Vice President Agnew, whose tirades against the press went far beyond the bounds of legitimate criticism."

Speaking Monday before the 38th annual convention of the American Newspaper Guild, Kennedy cited as evidence of the Administration's efforts to censor the press the Pentagon papers case and the efforts to cite CBS president Dr. Frank Stanton for contempt of Congress because he refused to produce unused materials gathered for the "Selling of the Pentagon" documentary.

"The shabbiness of the government's claim that publication of the Pentagon papers would so endanger the national security as to justify suspending the First Amendment was apparent to two federal district court judges, to 10 appellate court judges and to at least six members of the U.S. Supreme Court."

Kennedy said administration attempts to stop The New York Times, The Washington Post and The Boston Globe from publishing the classified documents struck at the First Amendment and helped create an atmosphere in which "the freedom of the press is placed in jeopardy."

Ky Kicks Off Campaign to Replace Thieu

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky kicked off his campaign to replace President Nguyen Van Thieu with an open letter today accusing Thieu of wholesale reneging on campaign promises, distasteful practices and trying to rig the coming election.

Ky said he was dissociating himself from Thieu, making official a split that has been apparent for months, and would run against him in the Oct. 3 election.

There was no immediate comment from the Presidential Palace.

With a hull continuing in the war, Ky's letter shifted attention to politics.

The vice president said he was Thieu's running mate four years ago because he wanted to inspire the people and the army "by this expression of unity at the leadership level."

"I had then no other hope than to see you achieve the national objectives which you had defined yourself," Ky continued. "However, none of those objectives has been attained today."

Ky said those "unfulfilled promises" were responsible for a state of "stagnation and of regression which has weakened the efforts of this nation in its fight against Communism."

"Moreover, because of your excessive attachment to power, you have indulged in dictatorial practices—preferring the flatteries of sycophants over the advice of honest counsels. This is the reason why my voice has not been heard. This is the reason why unconstitutional, illegal and repressive actions have continually developed."

Ky said he had decided to run for the presidency to bring "appropriate reparation to the mistakes which have been made during the past four years, and to respond to the expectations of the people and the army."

Meanwhile, the Supreme Court ruled constitutional the amendment to the electoral law which Thieu sponsored to restrict the number of presidential candidates drastically. Ky in his letter said the amendment violates the constitution and Thieu four years ago had "ardently opposed" just such restrictions.

"As the country prepares itself for the election," Ky wrote Thieu, "you now silence the opposition and muzzle the press. Furthermore, you apply pressure on members of the Congress, of the municipal and provincial councils to prevent them from sponsoring the candidates who you fear. Indeed, I know of no instances when arbitrary acts have been committed in such blatant fashion, and I can only conclude that those acts constitute undeniable indications of dishonesty in the coming elections."

The law requires endorsing signatures from 40 National Assemblymen or 100 province councillors for a candidate to enter the presidential race.

By the end of 1970 one out of every six Hungarians had television sets.

Kiwanis Club Speaker

SENATOR OLEN HENDRIX

Senator, and President Pro-Tem of the Arkansas Senate, the Honorable Olen Hendrix of Prescott, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting on a program arranged by Kiwanian Mike Kelly.

Senator Hendrix reported on a recent trip to Washington D.C. at the invitation of President Nixon. He and legislators from the other states were given no information as to the purpose of the meeting except that the President and his Cabinet wanted to discuss a matter of supreme importance confronting the American people.

After their arrival they were briefed on the procedure of the meeting, one of the stipulations being that no questions were to be asked of the President. However, after his presentation they were allowed to question the Cabinet members who were present.

As a security measure each guest was asked to properly identify himself and then submit to a search before entering the White House grounds and again on "entering the conference chamber."

It was not until the President addressed his guests that they were given an indication of the purpose of the meeting which was to discuss Revenue Sharing with the States.

Mr. Nixon addressed the group for about thirty minutes, making a good case for Revenue Sharing. Among other things he was quoted as saying, "Here in Washington we are the world's best tax collectors, but we don't know how to properly spend the money collected."

After the President's address many questions were asked of the Cabinet Members, particularly George Romney, head of HUD, and Secretary of the Treasury, John Connally, each of whom made a good case for Revenue Sharing.

It was the feeling of the Arkansas Delegation, however, that Revenue Sharing with the States would not benefit Arkansas due to the fact that she is practically free of debt. Those States that are heavily in debt would benefit most from Revenue Sharing. "Revenue sharing simply doesn't reward good business practice," said Senator Hendrix.

In a question and answer period it was predicted that 1-30 would not be completed until 1972. In spite of this Arkansas is the leading state in the Union in interstate completion.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Bill Wirskye of Richardson, Texas, David Washburn of Boston, Ray Brock of Delight, and Mack McLarty of Hope. Jim Tate of Hope was introduced as the newest member of the Hope Kiwanis Club.

Orders Exemption for Addicts

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy John H. Chafee has ordered one-time-only exemption of drug users from punishment if they cooperate in their own rehabilitation, it has been learned.

Chafee's order covers both the Navy and the Marine Corps, which has been opposed to any blanket amnesty for drug abusers.

The directive, signed July 9, makes no mention of "amnesty." Instead it refers to "exemption" from disciplinary action or less-than-honorable discharge because of drug use or "possession incident to such use."

Marine sources indicated the wording satisfies the Corps. They said they feel amnesty has a "weak ring to it" and connotes "total forgiveness of all."

"A member (of the naval service) may be granted exemption only once," Chafee decreed.

The order stresses "voluntariness" and says such disclosures must be made before a sailor or Marine is arrested for drug abuse or is officially warned he is suspected.

However, the program also extends to men who have been "involuntarily identified" in the course of tests, such as those given to men leaving Vietnam, or who are named as users by other men applying for exemption.

In these cases, those "involuntarily identified" or named will be given a chance to ask for the exemption.

The test of "sincerity" will be applied. As Chafee put it, "A member must be sincere in seeking to eliminate his drug dependence in order to qualify for exemption." He added that a man's "declared intention to cooperate fully in his own rehabilitation program" will be enough evidence of this.

If a man fails to cooperate after receiving exemption,

China Would Take Part in Ending War

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China is willing to take part in a new international conference on Vietnam along the lines of the 1954 Geneva parley that ended France's war in Indochina, the leader of the Australian Labor party said today on his return from Peking.

Party leader Gough Whitlam headed a delegation of Laborites who spent 12 days in China and talked with Premier Chou En-lai and other leaders.

"I discussed the Geneva conference and its revival with Chou," Whitlam told a news conference, "and the Chinese are quite willing to participate in any renewed Geneva conference."

Whitlam, whose party is opposed to Australia's participation in the Vietnam war, did not enlarge on Chou's ideas about a conference on Vietnam, but he said: "The administrative arrangements for a revived Geneva-style conference would have to be more in an Asian framework."

He pointed out that the convening powers of the 1954 conference—Britain and the Soviet Union—were both European, and only one of the three nations on the International Control Commission set up to police the agreement was Asian. The three nations are India, Canada and Poland.

Whitlam did not say whether these were also Chou's views, but it seemed likely that they were.

Says Fish Fry Formed Coalition

WASHINGTON (AP) — A catfish fry on a parking lot may seem an odd way to forge a coalition between the over-65 and under-30 but Rep. David Pryor insists that was the result.

"We are seeing a demonstration of something maybe we never experienced before in America: a cementing together of the young and old generations," Pryor told more than 1,300 persons at the fish fry Tuesday night.

He said the turnout showed "a great display of affection for senior citizens."

At $5 per person for Arkansas-grown catfish, hush puppies and cole slaw, the crowd also underwrote a summer's investigation into federal programs for the elderly by Pryor's unofficial House Trailer Committee for the Aging.

The undaunted Arkansas Democrat launched the "government in exile" after a regular aging panel was blocked in Congress.

Three trailers berthed at Joe's Gulf Station are home office for the nonprofit institute formed for the volunteers' summer research. The fish fry was just upwind—and only a few blocks from the Capitol.

Dozens of representatives and senators meandered over to eat and mingle and hear Rep. James Symington, D-Mo., croon, yodel and whistle four down-home country songs and District of Columbia Delegate Walter Fauntroy sing spirituals. Former auctioneer Rep. Ken Gray, D-Ill., cajoled the crowd as master of ceremonies.

For a few, it was a time of politicking. Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., leader of forces fighting a contempt citation sought by the House Commerce Committee against the Columbia Broadcasting System, was taking congratulations on the victory earlier Tuesday.

And Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, mentioned as a possible presidential candidate, was followed by fond little old ladies up and down the catfish lines.

Pryor said nearly 20 young college students are volunteering their time all summer to collect data on federal programs affecting the aging. The fish fry proceeds will help pay their room and board and the other expenses of the House Trailer Committee.

Chafee said, he will be open to "appropriate administrative or punitive action" for future drug offenses.

Chafee stipulated that men asking for exemption "are not required to identify other drug abusers" as a condition.

GOPS Claim They Have Votes to Uphold Veto of Public Works Bill

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans claimed today they have enough Senate votes to sustain President Nixon's veto of a $5.6-billion public works bill favored by many Democrats.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., charging the veto was "a cruel blow to the unemployed of our nation," urged the measure be made law.

That would require two-thirds approval of the Senate and House, and Democrats doubted they could muster enough votes.

Nixon said he rejected the bill because of its $2-billion program of stepped-up public works spending, designed by advocates to provide work for the unemployed, but spurned by the White House as a plan offering only dead-end jobs.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., chairman of the Public Works Committee, and Theodore Stevens, R-Alaska, wrote their colleagues appealing for support of the bill.

"It will go a long way toward reducing the substantial unemployment in the construction field, where there are currently between 350,000 and 450,000 unemployed workers," they said.

The President urged revival of other features of the bill, renewing $1.5 billion in development aid for the Appalachian region and extending the current public works and economic development act.

A Republican source predicted no more than four GOP senators would break with the administration on the issue. There are 45 Republican senators, and 34 votes would be enough to uphold the veto.

Williams, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, said in a prepared speech that 5.5 million Americans are unemployed and "the President's criticism of this bill comes to very little when measured against the urgent needs" of the unemployed.

"That is why ... I fervently hope the Senate will act to nullify a veto which came as a cruel blow to the unemployed of our nation," Williams said.

Nixon said the vetoed bill wouldn't create jobs soon enough to solve the unemployment problem.

Executions in Morocco a Mystery

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Many questions are unanswered in the wake of the attempted coup in Morocco and the execution of its ringleaders.

Mystery still shrouds the motives of the leaders of the rebellion and why they spared the life of King Hassan II, a conservative, pro-Western monarch and one of the leading moderates in the Arab world.

The rebels announced a "people's revolutionary committee" and proclaimed a regime of Libyan-style socialism. Yet most of the leaders were millionaires steeped in the capitalist way of life.

Was the coup just an attempt to seize power and set up a military dictatorship, or was it motivated by ideological considerations?

The 12 men named as leaders of the coup are all dead, 10 executed by firing squad on Tuesday, and two killed during the attack on the king's summer palace Saturday. These rebels were among the elite of Morocco's army leaders, all long regarded as devoted to the king.

Hundreds of such men remain the backbone of Hassan's regime. Were some of them secret sympathizers with the coup? And will the new military security tribunal established after the coup carry out a sweeping purge of the army? The rebels had a "death list" and systematically executed many of the king's closest advisers. Why, then, did they fail to kill the king or his strongman interior minister, Mohamed Oufkir, who were both at their mercy.

The Libyan government radio broadcast a triumphant salute to the coup when it had barely begun. Did the Libyan revolutionary leaders have advance notice of the plot?

The Moroccan news agency published a list of nine of the ringleaders, along with their property holdings. They were Wednesday, July 14, 1971 headed by Gen. Mohamed Medbouh, who was killed by his own men—accidentally, King Hassan said later—during the attack on the palace.

Medbouh, 44, director of the king's personal military staff, owned "farms and villages throughout the kingdom," the news agency said.

Mafia Men Rounded Up in Italy

ROME (AP) — Police rounded up dozens of Mafia suspects in towns throughout Sicily and on the Italian peninsula today in the wake of a parliamentary report charging that police and other officials protected the criminal organization.

The arrests were ordered by the police chief of Palermo, the Sicilian capital, Ferdinando Li Donne, and Col. Carlo Alberto della Chiesa, commander of the national police in Sicily.

The suspects were being brought to Palermo for action by special courts which have banished 33 Mafia leaders to islands off Sicily and Sardinia in the past two months.

The parliamentary commission charged that Mafia leaders seldom have been convicted by Italian courts because they enjoyed "powerful and authoritative protection and political complicity" from police and other officials.

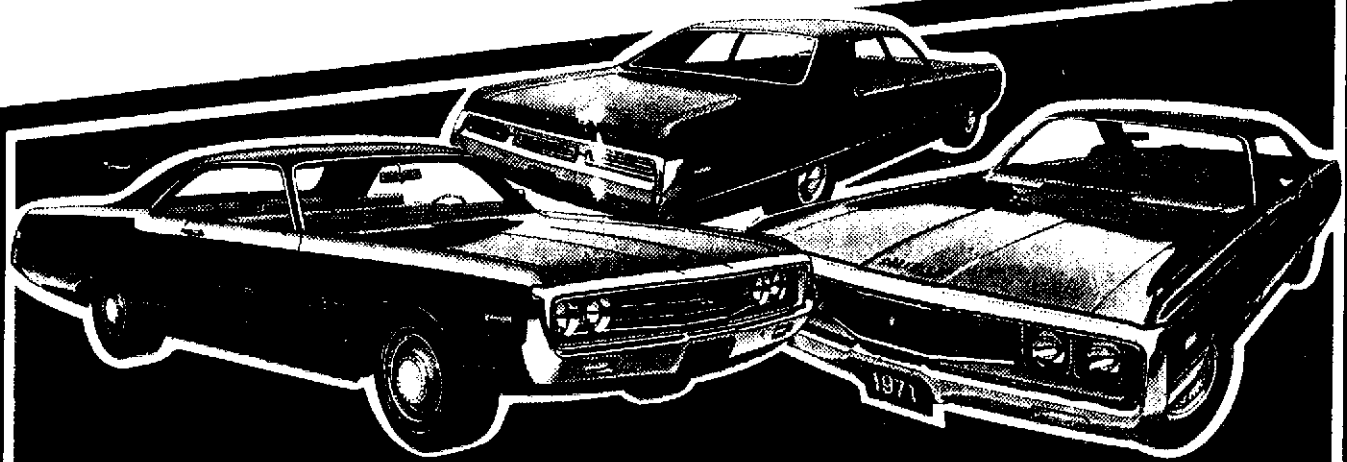

It said the Christian Democrats, Italy's Roman Catholic party and the leader of every postwar government, is among the parties that traded political protection for the Mafia's support.

After a seven-year investigation, the commission issued a 300-page report Tuesday in which it outlined the activities of 13 men it named as Mafia kingpins in postwar Italy. They were described as "bloody criminals, killers, drug dealers, persons capable of any atrocity."

Reagan Scoffs Hope Students at Music Camp

of Dispute With Nixon

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
MORAN, Wyo. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan again has attacked President Nixon's welfare reform plan, but he scoffed at a charge their dispute over aid to the poor could rip the Republican party so badly it might cost Nixon the 1972 election.

The California chief executive came to Jackson Hole to present his own welfare reform ideas to the Western Governors' Conference and said he wouldn't be able to vote for a conference resolution backing Nixon's program.

Reagan said he likes some parts of the Nixon plan but—at his point—opposes it because of "a very great concern about the adding of millions of new people to the rolls."

The governor's plan would cut thousands from the 2.5 million persons on California's welfare program by tightening eligibility requirements and eliminating what Reagan calls "cheats," who are collecting aid at the expense of the really needy.

Reagan told newsmen when he arrived Tuesday from Sacramento by chartered jet that he brought along a news clipping to show Republican Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon that "the President ... thinks we're getting along just fine."

McCall had accused Reagan of undercutting Nixon's popular support, and his chance of carrying the pivotal state of California in 1972, by quarreling with Washington over welfare and federally financed legal aid to the poor in California.

When McCall was told that the White House denied there was any rift between Nixon and Reagan, McCall told newsmen: "What else could they say?"

Yoko Seeks Custody of Child

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. (AP) — Yoko Ono, wife of Beatle John Lennon, has filed suit in U.S. District Court here seeking custody of her daughter from her first marriage.

Mrs. Lennon claimed that her former husband, Anthony Cox, has had custody of Kyoko, 7, since January 1969. She said Cox has taken Kyoko with him during extensive travels in recent years, but has had no fixed income, employment or home.

Mrs. Lennon also said that despite an agreement to the contrary, Cox refused to allow her rights of visitation or grant her temporary custody.

The motion was scheduled for hearing July 26.

Mrs. Lennon's attorneys told the court that Cox and Kyoko recently left Spain for the United States, but cannot now be located.

Murder Suspect Out of State

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — Police Chief Wayne Hyden said Tuesday that a man police want to question about two murders here has been reported by the FBI to be outside Arkansas. Hyden said the report from the FBI was received about a week ago in connection with the search for Daniel Leon Graham, 31, formerly a resident of the Springdale area. "The search is still going on," the chief said. "There have been no other developments."

Last June 18, a man took $1,000 from a Safeway store and forced three store employees, who were cleaning the building after business hours, to join him as hostages.

On a country road, the three were forced to sprawl face down and the gunman shot each of them in the head, killing two.

Michael E. Hawkins, 18, who crawled to a nearby house after being shot, survived his gunshot wound and has been released from the hospital.

Killed were Kenneth Ames, 18, a summer employee, and Gene Franco, about 23.

Graham escaped on May 31 from Cummins Prison Farm, where he was serving a life sentence for his conviction last year in the Dec. 16, 1969, abduction of Mrs. Margaret Clayton from her home in DeValls Bluff.

Observation Tower Is Topped

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The 165-foot observation tower atop Hot Springs Mountain in Hot Springs National Park was wrested from its base Tuesday by two bulldozers harnessed to the structure by long cables.

The 65-year-old tower, visited by millions of tourists over the years, was closed in 1969 by the National Parks Service because of "structural deficiencies."

The tower, which was constructed in 1906, had been a popular tourist attraction and a landmark in the Hot Springs area.

Spokesman for the Parks Service said the tower was to have been toppled into a parking lot adjacent to the structure, but a strong gust of wind caused the tower to fall into a wooded area.

In its last year of operation, 120,000 persons paid to view the Hot Springs area from atop the observation deck.

Black Teacher Files Suit

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — The Warren School Board says that a black elementary school teacher fired last month was released because of her failure to maintain classroom order and discipline and her inability to teach modern mathematics, English and social studies.

Mrs. Travistine Alexander contended in a suit filed in U.S. District Court at El Dorado that she was fired because she was black.

The board, in its answer to the suit, said her contract was not renewed because of "failure to satisfactorily discharge her duties as a teacher despite efforts made to encourage her to improve her performance."

Mrs. Alexander asked for $5,000 damages and reinstatement to her job.

tion of Mrs. Margaret Clayton from her home in DeValls Bluff.

Mrs. Clayton, wife of Herbert Clayton, manager of the DeValls Bluff branch of the Planters Bank & Trust Co. of Forrest City, was freed near Alma after $15,000 ransom was paid.

While awaiting trial on the kidnap charge, Graham escaped Jan. 25, 1970, from jail at Des Arc, but was captured on Feb. 18, 1970, at Redding, Calif.

Police last reported that Graham was thought to be accompanying a woman and four children in a 1962 white Chevy II station wagon. Authorities said the woman was Billie Labeff, also known as Wanda Labeff.

Washington-Woods Wedding Vows Repeated

Miss Maryann Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Washington of Hope, and Sp. 4 Wilbert L. Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie L. Woods of Fort Hood, Texas, were married Saturday, June 5, at 7:00 p.m. at the home of the bride.

Advance Presiding Elder William Terrell, Sr. of Hope officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Dorothy Jean Smith, sister of the bride, furnished the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of rose pink accented from the waist to bodice with silver trimming. Her veil was shoulder length with pink net accented from a pink head bow. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Miss Bobbye Milus, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street length blue dress. Lloyd Washington II, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was given as a wedding present by Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Smith and Felicia Renee, sister, brother-in-law, and niece of the bride, at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth with an overlay of lace. The center of the table was occupied by the three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom under a floral arch, and decorated in pink. In addition to the cake, nuts, mints, and punch were served.

The couple will reside in Copperas Cove, Texas, at the present while the groom is stationed at Fort Hood.

New Party Arrives in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Representatives of the New Party arrived in Little Rock Tuesday to organize an Arkansas chapter and to determine how to obtain a ballot position in the state for the 1972 elections.

Oran Lindquist, state coordinator of the New Party in Florida, said the group had the names of some Arkansians whom it will contact about establishing an Arkansas chapter.

"We want local people interested in radical change to run as candidates on the local and state level as well as the national level," Lindquist said.

He said the group had just returned from Albuquerque, N.M., where representatives of the New Party and 12 other radical political parties met to draw up a platform calling for, among other things, the legalization of drugs, abolition of penalties for crimes that do not have victims, immediate and unconditional withdrawal of U.S. troops from Southeast Asia and support of the women's, gay and black liberation movements.

Lindquist said that the New Party had found that many Americans were disenchanted with the two established parties.

Screwworms Infest Ark., Tex.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Infestations of screwworms have occurred in areas of Texas and Arkansas free of the pests for nine years, says the Agriculture Department.

The first case, confirmed by USDA scientists on June 24, was discovered near Hooks, Tex., in the navel of a newborn calf. Another case, in a dog in Miller County, Ark., was confirmed on June 29, the department said Tuesday.

Four more screwworm cases were found later in Bowie County, Tex. A joint task force of federal and state livestock inspectors and veterinarians is checking in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma to see if the infestation has spread further.

Says JFK Understood War Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Former White House adviser Walt W. Rostow says President John F. Kennedy told him late in 1961 that an American withdrawal from Vietnam would not bring peace but lead to a larger and possibly nuclear war.

Rostow, who was also an adviser in the Johnson administration and is now a member of the University of Texas faculty, commented Tuesday on the CBS television program "The Pentagon Papers: What They Mean."

He said Kennedy "understood deeply, all the way down to the flattest statement ever made of the 'domino theory,' why Southeast Asia and its preservation as an independent area was vital to the American interest, including something which is often forgotten: its relationship to the Indian subcontinent, through Burma."

Rostow defended Johnson, saying he did not attempt to deceive the American people read it, and he said he already had a copy," said Ellsberg, a He referred to newspaper stories, based on the papers, that said the Johnson administration reached a consensus before the 1964 election that the bombing of North Vietnam would have to begin the following year.

Daniel Ellsberg, who gave copies of the classified Pentagon study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam to the press, said on the ABC-TV Dick Cavett Show that it was "very misleading" to conclude that Johnson deceived the voters during the 1964 campaign.

What Johnson said was, "I'm not going to send American boys now or, I'm not going to send American boys until they're needed," Ellsberg said. "So President Johnson may have been giving us some flack back then."

Ellsberg also said that Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's top national security affairs adviser, was wrong in saying he was unaware of the existence of the Pentagon study until he read it in The New York Times.

Ellsberg said he discussed

Nurse's Aide Arrested for Arson

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A petite nurse's aide, who was praised as a heroine last January, faced arraignment today on 10 counts of wilful murder and one of arson in connection with a fire that killed nine persons at a senior citizens home.

Pretty 21-year-old Mary Ann Wyatt was rushed unconscious to a hospital after spending more than three hours last Jan. 14 rescuing and comforting survivors from the Westminster Terrace Presbyterian Home.

She was arrested and jailed without bond Tuesday after the Jefferson County grand jury indicted her in connection with the blaze.

The indictment gave no details of Miss Wyatt's alleged connection with the fire other than to name her and list the charges.

Miss Wyatt, who hoped to become a physical therapist, was one of two staff members on duty when the fire was discovered.

As smoke rolled through halls, Miss Wyatt and Helen Turner, the night nurse, moved 12 of the 13 infirm patients safely out of the building. The other died from smoke inhalation.

Miss Wyatt then led other residents of the home to safety, in many cases forcing locks on sliding glass doors and moving patients to balconies outside their rooms.

Of 94 residents in the building, nine died of smoke inhalation, and a tenth died of pneumonia Jan. 21.

Dr. Donald Thomas, Director of the emergency room at Louisville General Hospital and a city fire department physician, praised the 4-foot-11 brunette for her rescue efforts.

"I could see she had taken in a lot of smoke, but she didn't want to go to the hospital," he said.

"The pay's not too hot and the benefits aren't great, but I loved those people," Miss Wyatt said from her bed in January.

Arson investigators theorized that paper was used to start the fire but said the intensity of the flames apparently consumed the starter fuel. The $1.5 million building was damaged severely.

The indictment listed 40 witnesses, including 16 county police officers, two firemen, residents of the home and the Rev. Jack T. Goudykowitz, executive director of the home.

The study with Kissinger last September, "I asked him to and what went on in 1964 was contingency planning."
